The Kauffman Anti-trust Bill passed the Kentucky House by 79 to 5. It fulfills a platform pledge. The Senate repealed the Anti-pass Bill with the amendments made in the House.

The next time Mr. Green Clay Walker goes to Stanford, that thriving metropolis situated on creek, he should take a whole hour off in order to shake hands with all the inhabitants thereof.

An eminent writer has said that we are physically, morally and mentally what our thoughts make us. Good!
With this as an aid and a guide we ought to be able to diagnose the thoughts of every one in town.

We are sending the message "I love you" to each and every subscriber of the Central Record this week, for Cupid will have paid his yearly visit before our next issue, so here's hoping "you and your folks love me and my folks, like me and my folks love you and your folks."

Helen Keller, who all her life has enjoyed being entertained by the greatest actors, will reverse the usual order of such events and become the entertainer on February 11, when she will give her first lectures in Louisville at the First Christian church, under the auspices of the King's Daughters.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr was acquitted by a jury in the Superior Court at Providence, R. I., of a charge of having instigated the murder of her husband, C. Victor Brown and Henry H.
Spellman, negroes, who were accused of the actual killing, were found guilty.
Mrs. Mohr swooned while the jury was announcing the verdict.

Governor Stanley has the same right to send for members of the Kentucky Legislature and discuss with them legislative proposals of importance to the State as has the President of the United States to confer with members of the House and Senate. Constructive legislation of any kind, whether at Washington or at a State capital or in a city, is impossible unless the executive and the legislative bodies work together.

The greatest trouble with the potato industry in Kentucky so far as quality goes in the custom of using small tubers for seed, according to F. E. Merriman, of Kenton county, who led the potato discussion before the county agents conference last Thursday. Like produces like. When dwarf seed are planted the proportion of small potatoes in a hill is large. When the largest specimens from the most prolific hills are planted, large potatoes are the result. When a farmer plants small potatoes the seed is bound to "run out," he declared.

CATTLE SALE.

Mr. J. E. Robinson sold forty-four head of cattle last week to Johnson and Whitehouse that averaged 1200 pounds and the price paid was $7.25 a hundred.

STANFORD FAIR.

Stanford has claimed for its date of the next fair, as August 23, 24 and 25th, 1916. No better fair in the state is held than the one at Stanford and we are glad that they are to have another.

BIG BARGAINS.

If you have not seen the many bargains that Mr. Tom Howard is offering his customers, you are standing very much in your own light. His stock is overcrowded and he is closing out at cost to make room for his spring goods.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The W. C. T. U. will observe Willard Memorial day, Saturday, in their room at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to come and friends are cordially invited. It is customary to give a silver offering at this service as this money is used to extend the temperance work.

AN INTERESTING ANTIQUE.

Morrow and McRobert have an interesting antique in an old clock. It is a mantle clock, has wooden works and is over a hundred years old. It is keeping just as good time today as the day it was made. It has a beautiful, wooden, hand painted face so it has nothing over some of the girls in that line, if it has in the number of years.

GRAFT.

Greatest of all serial pictures begins at the Opera House in Lancaster Friday, February 11th. Two shows that night, the first one begins promptly at 7:15 and the second one promptly at 8:30. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. No admission to anyone. This is your invitation, so be sure and come, and see the best picture ever shown in Lancaster.

NOT ENVOIOUS, BUT

We are indeed glad that Danville is to have a hotel and that Stanford is to have a Chautauqua. If they keep up this good word they will soon be in a class with Lancaster, as we have an-joyed both of these luxuries for a number of years and could not at this time see how we could get along without either. We do not envy our neighbors in any of these good things.

RAPID DELIVERY.

Haselden Brothers have added to their delivery system, one of the Auto Trailers and are making some record breaking deliveries with this modern innovation. A man came into their store recently and admired a stove on exhibition and remarked: "If I didn't live forty miles from here, I would buy one".
He was informed that "distance lends enchantment" to this firm and that the stove could be delivered in a few hours.
The trade was made and the stove delivered, making the round trip of eighty miles in much less than a day.

FIRM DISOLVES.

It is with regret we learn there has been made a change in the firm of the Joseph Mercantile Co. Mr. Author
Joseph has sold out his interest in said firm to his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Joseph, and his brother, Mr. Adolph Joseph.
While it is with regret we learn that Author and his most estimable wife will seek their fortune elsewhere, we are glad to state this enterprising firm will continue business at the same stand in the same up-to-date way.

Author was born and reared in our town and is not only considered one of our best business young men but he is popular with all classes and will make friends wherever he goes. Luck to him!

WHAT ABOUT THIS.

In complimenting our good friend Walker, Editor Saulley takes a dig at our city in the following article. He might have mentioned that Lancaster is on the "BOONE WAY", he certainly hasn't forgotten that.

"Green Clay Walker, county attorney of Garrard, and moving picture show magnate of that delightful little village, Lancaster, located just over the north Lincoln boundary, was in town to secure a film from local Manager C. Hays Foster, of the Stanford opera house, as his own missed train connection and did not arrive in time.
Mr. Walker was kept busy while here receiving congratulations from his many Lincoln friends upon his recent marriage."

NOW THIS SOUNDS GOOD.

The enterprising citizens of Lancaster have adopted the plan of having several "big days" in the spring and fall, and they are made so entertaining that people come to the city from all parts of Garrard and neighboring counties. Last Monday an automobile and other valuable prizes were given away and there was much excitement in the contest. The plan serves well to bring the people together and likewise brings much business to the merchants. They know how to do things in that hustling city.--Danville Messenger.

THANKS!

We wish to thank our good friend and the Records good friend, Mrs. W.
B. Moss, for The Record of June 3rd.
This is not the first time she has come to our assistance in this matter and we are truly grateful, and also appreciative of the fact that she prizes each issue of the Record.

MULES BRISK AT RICHMOND.

Mr. W. B. Burton bought twenty fat mare mules in Richmond last Monday, running in ages from four to six years at an average of $185 a head. This was the best bunch of mules we have seen together for some time. They were bought for the Wilson Live Stock Company, of Wilson, N. C. and were shipped to that point this morning. In this car was a premium pair of 5 year old mare mules, recently bought of Andy Gooch, of Lincoln county, for $500. They matched like two eggs and weighed 2350 pounds. Mr. Burton also shipped a car load to Butler Ga., and were sold through Mr. W. R. Cook, of this city, who is trading there this winter.

THE ROCKWELL SMITH MEMORIAL FUND.

A beautiful thought was that of the missionary society of the Presbyterian church when they decided to call their yearly offering for missions The Rockwell Smith Memorial Fund.
The funds will be used just as they were always used, but the memory of a beloved pastor and the work he so dearly loved will be kept green by the name.

KAUFFMAN BILL PASSES HOUSE.

In the passage of the Kauffman Antitrust Bill by 79 to 5 the House fulfilled another Democratic platform pledge, making three in all that have been redeemed by it since the present session of the Kentucky Legislature began.

The bill was taken up as a special order of business and consumed but little time. The only person who addressed the House on the measure was H. C. Kauffman, of Garrard county, its author, who briefly outlined its provisions, and concluded with the statement that it had the unqualified backing of the Governor.

Glover Carr, of McLean county, offered several amendments, all tending to strengthen the measure and acceptable to Mr. Kauffman, which were adopted. Only five Representatives voted against the bill.

The friends of Mr. Kauffman, here in his home town, are justly proud of the record he is making in the legislature and the stand he has taken with the Governor in carrying out the platform pledges. The bill is a popular one and will pass the Senate by a handsome majority.

GOVERNOR SAYS

Jail A Cure For Bootleggers.

In refusing to grant a pardon to Geo.
A. Riddle, of Union County, sentenced to ten days in jail for selling liquor in a local option territory, Governor Stanley issued a statement in which he stands firmly upon his original attitude in regard to local option.

In this statement he says:
"As a candidate I repeatedly asserted my hearty concurrence in this settlement of a vexed problem which has so long disturbed the councils of deliberative bodies and delayed the enactment of much-needed, progressive legislation. I was nominated upon a platform which indorsed this law and set the seal of its approval upon it as a deliberate and final determination of the whole matter.

"The bootlegger may reimburse his losses in the form of fines by the successful operation of his illegal business after they are imposed. Incarcerated in the county jail he will have abundant time and opportunity to consider the nature and character of his offense and those who are more fortunate, but equally guilty, will find in him an example of what they, too, may expect after detection and conviction.

"The request for the remission of the jail sentence in this case is, therefore, refused."

JITNEY BUNS

Monday and Friday, 5 Cents Per Dozen.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home--128 Teaspoonful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named druggists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expecto-rant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say--"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador. If it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador or "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, Saint Paul, Minn. Guaranteed here by

To the Tobacco Growers and the Man Selling It:

We Have Sold 1,660,441 Pounds of Tobacco at an Average of $11.24

We sold last Friday, 36,165 pounds at an average of $15.38. We sold crop lot of J. J. Sebastian, of McCreary Garrard County, Ky., 1880 lbs at the high average of $34.10 per hundred. The third crop of Tussey Bros., Round Hill, Ky., 2430 pounds at $33.08 per hundred.

These prices are enough to silence wild cat talk and base insinuation, but some people seem to live and move and have their being by misrepresentation of our business methods. We think the men connected with the Madison Tobacco Warehouse Co., will compare favorably with those interested in the same business. We do not propose to dignify such statements as go the rounds by denial; our business record and standing are sufficient guarantee to the man selling. We solicit honest competition and are able to hold our own with all comers. Our business has been gotten on merit alone. When we have to impugn the motives and business methods of others to get business we will quit. We don't want that kind of business. Something has been said about a better lighted house than the Madison. Maybe this is so, too, but we do know that the Madison can sell tobacco at night and get more money than some folks could get in the day time.

Baskets on Fridays sales:—$44, $49, $50, $54, $53, $50, $48, $51, $51. One basket of 225 lbs at $51. per hundred, brought $107.70. The following are some of our best sales for the last week: J. J. Sebastian, 1880 lbs $34. Tussey Bros., 2430 lbs $33.08. J. W. Smith, 1075 lbs $32. Hickman Bros., 1716 lbs $32. B. F. Lunsford, Garrard county 1865 lbs $21.70. Prather & Crech, 1820 lbs $18.70. J. N. Hylce, 1485 lbs $18. Luther Gibbs, 2965 lbs $21.06. J. D. Long, 1065 lbs $27.00.

We have so many crop lots that range from $12. to $16 that we have not the space to tell you about. We only have space enough that we can pay for, to quote the higher prices. We have had one floor average of $13.12 for 44,000 lbs; one at $13.35 for 17,725 lbs, and one at $15.28 for 36,165 lbs. These averages we think are as good as have been reported in the state. Tobacco has never been higher than at any time with us than right now. Bring your tobacco to the old Madison who stands like she has always stood the leader in this market in number of pounds sold and crop and floor averages.

IF YOU HAVE CATARRH READ THIS

Breathe Hymei Four Times a Day and Watch Results. Give Prompt Relief.

The pleasantest, most convenient and most scientific method for the treatment of catarrh is Hymei. Simply put a few drops of Hymei in the inhaler that comes with every complete package and then breathe its air for a few minutes four times a day.

It seems remarkable that so simple a way of treating catarrh will effect such quick relief, but the most important discoveries of science have always been the simplest. By breathing Hymei in this way every particle of air that enters the air passages of the throat and head and goes into the lungs is charged with a healing balsam that kills the germs and bacilli of catarrh and soothes and allays all irritation.

The first day's use of Hymei will show an improvement and in a short time there should be no further trouble from catarrh. Its action is rapid and lasting.

You take no risk in buying Hymei. A complete outfit is inexpensive but if after using you can say that it has not helped you R. E. McRoberts will return your money. What other treatment for catarrh is sold under a guarantee like this? 2-10-21

MARK THIS MAN.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said: "My trade of late is getting bad; 'Til I try another muslin ad."?

If such there be, go mark him well; For him no bank account will swell, No angels watch the golden stair To welcome home a millionaire.

The man who never asks for trade In local papers, oft displayed. Cures more for rest than worldly gain, And patronage but give him pain.

Tread lightly friends, let no rude sound Disturb his solitude profound, Here let him live in calm repose Unmolested except by men he owes.

And when he dies go plant him deep That hush may break his dreamless sleep, When no rude clamor may disturb The quiet that he loves so well.

And that the world may know its loss Place on his grave a wreath of moss And on a stone above, "Here lies A chump who wouldn't advertise."

HUSBAND RESCUED

DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Belle Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

JUST TRY RHEUMA

NO CURE, NO PAY

That is the Basis on Which Druggists Offer This Great Remedy for Rheumatism.

Anybody can afford to use Rheuma to get rid of terrible rheumatism, sciatica, or gout, for it is sold by R. E. McRoberts and other druggists at only 50 cents.

It is wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how sure muscles limber up and swollen joints come down to normal. It is the best remedy you can find to drive rheumatic poison from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I was so crippled with sciatic rheumatism I could not walk. Doctors could do nothing for me. After taking three bottles of Rheuma, the rheumatism had entirely left me."—Guy Torley, 129 Summit Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

Quite a number of young people stormed Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rice on Saturday evening at their home in the Parks Flats, very thoughtfully taking this popular young couple a number of useful things for the kitchen. It is needless to state that a delightful evening was spent.

GIRLS--DO YOU KNOW WHY YOUR HAIR IS UGLY?

Many women do not realize the necessity of keeping the hair and scalp absolutely clean in order to look their best. And you, with only a few minutes of time, the hair may be brought to a beautiful, thick, lustrous luxuriance and that at very little cost.

Just try these few simple directions today: Into the palm of the hand pour a little Parisian Sage, a rightly guaranteed, inexpensive and most beneficial preparation to be found at any drug store; thoroughly wet the hair near the scalp with it and then rub vigorously until a soft tingling sensation comes stealing over the head. Do this regularly for a few days and you will surely be surprised and delighted with the results.

The genuine Parisian Sage is obtainable from R. E. McRoberts who always sells it with an absolute guarantee of perfect satisfaction to the user or the money paid will be returned. 2-10-21

HAMMACK

Mrs. E. D. Cook has been seriously ill, but is some better at this writing. Mr. Cook was very ill last week but is also better.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurt died last week. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to them in their bereavement.

Miss Leil Coltrion, Mr. Bob McKnight and Misses Nellie Hensley and Sally Mae Graves and several others were pleasant guests of Miss Ettie and Mr. John Faulkner Sunday evening.

She Will Recover

So her doctor said. Her friends and neighbors felt sure of it too. They have used Peruna themselves and know of its merits. That old cough that had worried her for years and years, for which she had taken all sorts of cough medicines, has disappeared. Peruna is doing the work. She will recover. Indeed, she has recovered.

Her name is Mrs. William Hohmann, 2767 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, Ill. She had suffered with catarrh of the bronchial tubes and had a terrible cough ever since a child. As she got older she grew worse. She coughed both winter and summer. Had to sit up at night. Could not sleep. "But all that has left me now. Peruna has cured me."

There are others, and there is a reason.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The new additions to the music class this week are Helen Stapp, Elizabeth and Mary May Walker and Margaret Cook, thus making 30 in the class. Every period of the school day is filled.

Bro. Tindler in his Tuesday morning visit to the school gave us a most helpful and wholesome lesson on the "Art of Listening," and the adornment of the mind as controlled with the adornment of the body.

On last Friday morning at the chapel hour Ruth Taylor, of the class of expression, recited, giving a selection from "Miss Minerva and William Green Hill"; Muster J. R. Haselden rendered a solo on the piano. The efforts of these young people met with an enthusiastic reception.

It is refreshing to note the closer fellowship between the home and the school, to observe a growing tendency the study together the great questions that make for the child's well-being. The problems of the home and the school are in many respects identical and the one supplements the other.

A "Go-To-School Week" has recently been held at Litchfield Hill. The occasion was made the means of inviting patrons to visit the school and observe the work in the class rooms. All phases of the school work was on exhibition and displays of the products of all the grades were made. That appears to be a departure worth imitating.
Two girls of the eighth grade deserve honorable mention for the records made in spelling during the first term. Christine Pollitt spelled correctly all the words in the daily recitation, and all except one of a hundred words on examination, and Thelma Hamilton misspelled only one word in the daily work and spelled correctly all of the hundred words on examination.

It is interesting to know how many parents are actually following the work of their children in school. This work of the student serves as a point of contact between the teacher and parent and is thereby productive of mutual helpfulness. It promotes a better understanding between the school and the home and consequently aids in the general efficiency of the work.
Honor Roll.

Eighth Grade.—Elisha Carrier, Thelma Hamilton, Sue Fisher Respass.
Seventh Grade.—Clyde Holtzelaw.

For many years there was a tendency to place the responsibility of all of the child's education upon the home; in these latter days the homes everywhere are recognizing their obligation to this work; for instance the homes feel the responsibility of keeping their children in school every day, and of insisting on a reasonable amount study in the home. Failure in either case means failure for the child. There is a growing tendency upon the part of fathers and mothers to assume their full share of responsibility in the child's conduct on the way to and from the school. There was a time when this duty rested upon the school but public sentiment is rapidly changing.

A series of tests have been tried out in Oakland Cal. to determine (a) the spelling efficiency by grades, by schools and for the city as a whole, (b) spelling efficiency and individual differences due to age, grade, sex etc. (c) the effect of social differences on spelling efficiency. The tests were given in 40 schools with about 13,000 children from the 2nd to 8th grades inclusive. The following results were obtained. In all grades but one the accelerated children outstripped in spelling ability the children of normal progress and in all grades excelled the retarded children. The girls generally were superior to the boys. The eighth grade girls excelled the boys by 5.7 per cent. It was shown that the children of professional men and business men are superior in spelling to the children of artisans. The language and the social condition of the home have a decided effect upon the spelling.

THE FAMILY BUDGET.

The Wisdom of Settling on a Family Financial Program.

The young married man must, to be successful, outline some sort of financial program. He must, after careful consideration, decide upon the family budget. Next to the budget, or in most cases of even greater importance, is protection. It is the sacred duty of every married man to provide this protection. Should one remain lax and imprudent one may have cause to regret.

Therefore when one has selected the wife, or perhaps one has already done so, it is the duty to announce the family budget, and the first and most important part of the budget is the protection fund—life insurance.

No better corroboration of this argument can be found than the recent statement of President Woodrow Wilson:

"If a man does not provide for his children, if he does not provide for those dependent upon himself, then he has not opened his eyes to any conception of human life."

Life insurance is the greatest institution for systematic saving there is, and it has more adherents by several millions than the savings banks, which have 17,000,000 depositors. It is not antagonistic but supplementary to other forms of saving. But as an institution it encourages systematic thrift more than any other form.

A depositor in a savings bank makes a deposit and may intend to make more. But a man taking a life insurance policy makes a definite financial plan for years ahead, if not for life. He may forget to make his deposit in the savings bank next year, but the man who takes out the life insurance will be reminded of his obligation. The statistics would startle one if informed of the number of young men in the United States who have received their first training in saving through a life insurance policy.

Uncerth A Freak Egg

A freak egg was brought to the office of the Danville Messenger and Editor Landram says a face of a watch is very plainly seen on the shell and by holding the egg close to the ear the tick of the time piece can be heard. Now if "Bangs" will break that egg and tell us if the movement is a Waterbury or an Elgin, we will be convinced that he has really discovered a curiosity.

STATE FARMERS INSTITUTE

At Frankfort Next Week.

Several from this county intend to be on hand at the convening of the State Farmers Institute in Frankfort beginning February 15th and continuing for three days. Dr. W. D. Pryor, our local veterinarian, has been named a delegate from this county and is stirring up quite a good deal of interest among the farmers, who should by all means attend this meeting. They will also have the pleasure of being in Frankfort during the session of the legislature and we guarantee that our Representative, H. C. Kauffman will give you the glad hand.

ORDER "YELLOW DOGS"

Put On Impressive Work in Kennel.

Almost every night for the past month there has been work in the "Initiator" degree of the "Yellow Dog" order. Lancaster Kennel number 116 is fast coming to the front in this popular order and its membership now numbers about three hundred. Grand Ceremonial Hound, J. S. Haselden, confers the degrees in a very impressive and dignified manner, with the assistance of Dr. M. K. Denny, as "Chief Scratcher", J. L. Gill, "Chief Barker", and H. F. McGrath as "Master of Kennel". The "Superintendent of Telephone Poles", one of the most important offices in the kennel, being held down by John M. Farra and he has proven a master of the art. Several candidates were initiated last night and about a dozen petitions for membership are yet to be acted upon. The order is a worthy one and deserves the support of the public.

MERGER OF CITY CLUB AND COMMERCIAL CLUB A WISE MOVE.

At a full meeting of the "City Club" last Tuesday night, it was voted unanimously that the "Commercial Club" as a body be invited to merge with the "City Club" and President, G. B. Swinebroad was instructed to advise President, J. E. Stormes, of the "Commercial Club" of its action. The question of merging the two clubs has been under consideration for several weeks in both bodies and it seems to meet with the approval of the entire membership of each club. All agree that it will undoubtedly strengthen both and should in a few weeks add several dozen to its membership, bringing the total up to near the one hundred mark. Every member of the "Commercial Club" has approved of the plan and have signified their intention of joining the "City Club". A membership committee will be named and every business man in the city will be asked for his fellowship, by joining this club and help boost Lancaster as it was never boosted before. There is no reason in the world why Lancaster can not support a live, progressive "City Club" of even more than a hundred members. While the "City Club" was organized mostly for social purposes, the adding of the commercial features, will tend to make it more popular, beside accomplishing many things from a progressive standpoint for the city and community. The club room is centrally located, occupying the entire floor over the Citizens National Bank and is handsomely furnished. We would like to say just here that the columns of the CENTRAL RECORD are always open to anyone who wishes to exploit his views or ideas that would tend to better the upbuilding of LANCASTER.

UNION SERVICES.

Rev. A. J. Clere will conduct the union services at the Christian church next Sunday evening, his subject will be "Our Social Problems". The union services are proving very popular and will be continued throughout the month of February. A good crowd should hear Dr. Clere next Sunday evening.

EXTENDS CALL.

At a session of Presbyterian church last Sunday, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. H. S. Hudson of Sharpshurg, to become its pastor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. J. Rockwell Smith.

Rev. Hudson was in the city several weeks ago and preached at this church on Sunday morning, making a favorable impression with all whom he met. Should he accept the call, he will assume his duties about April 1st.

SALMON CLUB MEET.

The "Pugil Sound" fishing club came into its own last Monday evening, when the first ten pound salmon was served to its members at the Kensington hotel after a lay off of several months.

These delightful fish, which are fresh caught, are to be served every ten days to its members and are thoroughly enjoyed. The members are; J. L. Gill, Dr. M. K. Denny, J. E. Robinson, L. C. Guiley, J. M. Farra, J. S. Haselden, H. V. Bastin, J. A. Beazley, F. S. Hughes, L. G. Davidson, F. P. Frisbie, R. L. Elkin.

BRIGHT.

Much sympathy is felt here for Miss Lena Bright in the loss of her brother, James Thomas Bright, who died at his home in Bellevue, Ky., last Thursday morning, February 3rd, in the fiftieth year of his age. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted father and husband. He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and the funeral services were conducted by his pastor Rev. Irvin, of Bellevue. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Masonic lodge, the latter assisting in the last funeral rites. The many floral designs and loving tributes of friends attested the esteem in which he was held in the community where he had lived so long. Burial took place in Evergreen cemetery Newport, Ky., last Monday morning.

SOME COON DOGS THISE.

The claim of the Mt. Olivet Tribune Democrat that it has discovered the champion coon dog, or "dogs" is disputed. The Tribune says: "Clayton Moore, of Kentintown pike has the champion coon dog of this or any other state. During the past fall and up to the first of this year, Clayton has, with the assistance of these dogs, caught 79 opossums, 8 skunks, 6 coons, beside other varmints and an endless number of rabbits. This breaks the record for one season's hunting of coon dogs, and we doubt if any other county in the state can make anything like a similar showing in the coon dog line. Clayton very properly feels proud of his coon dogs."

According to this, Mr. Moore has a fairly good opossum dog but no coon dog at all. Mr. Jesse Ballard, son of Mr. George Ballard of this city, has one dog which during last fall and up to January 1st, caught 61 coons, 10 opossums, 46 polecats, 51 ground-hogs and quite a number of other varmints. Up to January 1st, Mr. Ballard had sold $195 worth of hides and has quite a number on hand. It seems that he has Moore "beat a mile".—Winchester Democrat.

Simon Anderson, our local coon hunter, says he is sorry that he didn't keep count of the number of coons and "possums" his dog caught, but he is satisfied that it was several more than the number recorded above.

LOYAL TO KENTUCKY.

"If I had my life to live over I would be a Kentuckian again," said Col. George W. Bain, of Lexington, in a lecture at Macaulay's Theater, in Louisville, a few nights ago. It was one of a series of lectures under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and was largely attended. "Some men who are old say they would not go through life again if they could," he continued, but I would like to have another chance, I believe I could do better. I was born in Lexington. My mother was born in Lexington. My grandmother was born in Lexington. My great-grandmother sleeps in Lexington in the yard of the church where I worship when I am at home on Sundays. If I had my life to go over I would be brought up again in the country and play on the same bluegrass, swing on the same old trees and listen to the music of the same song birds. I would be brought up in the same old state, have the same old Yankee schoolmaster and marry the same girl if she was willing again. Col. Bain referred to numerous changes in the world since he has been in it, such as automobile, airships, telephones, telegraphs and varied machinery, saying he was living in the best age in history. There would be notable changes in the future, he said, but some things would not change. "The young lady of 2016 may go in her airship to Canada one day and take her dinner by means of capsules, and then go to New Orleans the next day and see and exposition," he said, "but if she stops off at Lexington on the way down she will see a horse sale going on. Neither airships nor automobiles will ever supplant Kentucky borses."

BE ENERGETIC

NOT LAQUID

Medical Authority Tells What This Condition Really Means.

"When you are languid and listless, or lack ambition and feel so melancholy that life seems scarcely worth the living, it is absolutely necessary that you take treatment to correct these subnormal conditions, because you are suffering from derangements of a vital organ," declares one of the greatest medical authorities.

That "tired feeling" means a good deal more than is generally realized. It is not laziness, it is a physical ailment that needs correction quickly before it becomes even more serious by taking a firm hold on you.

Throw off that nervous depression. It is your duty.

Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant, that builds new tissues, vitalizes the blood and acts so favorably on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, is designed especially to correct these conditions. The results of the Tanlac treatment are amazing. It tends to put you back in body and mind like those old fashioned, but most sensible folks—the pioneers, and to make you study and of real manhood and womanhood.

Men and women, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, everywhere are testifying to the relief Tanlac has brought them. No other remedy has ever won such great endorsements that can only come from superlative merits.

Tanlac can now be had in Lancaster at R. E. McRoberts, where it is being fully explained to all questioners.

NO PARDON FOR

GEORGE ALEXANDER.

Governor Stanley has refused to pardon George Alexander, the defaulting banker of Paris, and has given the following written reasons for refusing to grant him clemency:

"It appears from the record before me, that the prisoner, George E. Alexander, is over sixty years of age and in feeble health and suffering with physical maladies which may and probably will, cause his death at no very distant period. It is urged that his release from imprisonment will accelerate his recovery and may prolong his life for many years.

"Being a man of culture and refinement prior to his incarceration, and accustomed to the comforts and luxuries of life, the confinement and privations of prison are, it is said, especially grievous and that his present condition in sharp contrast with the life he formerly led, preys upon his mind and aggravates the diseases which are wasting his body. With these facts before me, I have examined the record with the sincere hope that I might find in it some extenuating circumstance which might justify, or at least excuse the clemency so earnestly sought by those nearest to him who are sorely distressed by their and his misfortune.

"After interviewing the Banking Commissioner and other bank officials, consulting the Attorney General, the Commonwealth's Attorney and others cognizant of the facts and circumstances surrounding this case, I find there is no fact or circumstance which relieves or extenuates his guilt.

"This is not a case where the officer of a bank having reason to believe or believing it insolvent lacked the moral courage to obey the law and to comply with his duty in refusing longer to accept deposits. This man knowing the institution with which he was connected to be absolutely bankrupt and worthless, practiced every art of deceit and dissimulation to secure the confidence of his fellowmen and entice them into a known snare. His promises all were false, his friendships perfidious and the weak, the poor and the unfortunate who trusted him did it to their destruction and their premeditated ruin. The widow's mite, the pauper's pence were taken without remorse or scruple to minister to the luxury of his extravagant and ostentatious life.

"Old age in its helplessness, childhood in its artlessness were not immune from his machinations. He embezzled $20,000 of the property of two infant children. Finding a widow with $9,000 in another bank he secured this loan, and converted it to his own use without recording the transaction upon the books of the bank. He pretended to loan $3,000 belonging to a blind woman a Mrs. A. O. Allis; the money never loaned, was secretly purloined. His crimes included numerous embezzlements, forgeries and false oaths. In fact, he seems to have exhausted all the offenses in the category of crime in the commission of a countless multitude of felonies deliberately and persistently committed during a great part of a long and evil life.

"His present condition is unspeakably sad, but it is a condition he brought upon himself. Culture, learning, Christian surroundings were his. He had every opportunity to know and to see the wisdom of a course of usefulness and rectitude. He deliberately chose one whose certain end was shame and dishonor and imprisonment. His present state is the inevitable result of his own deliberate act. This man should not again in my opinion, be liberated upon a society which he has so grievously offended and for that reason executive clemency can not and will not be extended in this case."

GARRARD'S WEALTH

Valued At $6,833,762.

The recapitulation of the tax books show the total taxable wealth of Garrard County to be $6,833,762, of this amount $4,660,992 is on the farming lands, $594,415 town property and $1,786,857 is the taxable personality. The recapitulation also shows 2,923 polls in the county and 1,259 dogs.

THE STOCKMAN.

Three parts bran and one part oilmeal, with clover hay and sliced beets or potatoes, is a good ration for ewes with lambs.

Don't let the "windfall" apples go to waste. Give them to the pigs. Feed the extra vegetables as well.

Each farmer should raise all the horses needed on his own farm.

See that the ewes have plenty of water and salt feed, and the crop of lambs next spring will amply reward you for the extra thought and care.

When properly and intelligently done keeping hogs and making money are synonymous terms. More depends upon the man than upon the hog.

The ordinary farmer should raise draft colts. They are quiet and easily handled, and by the time they are old enough for market they will have earned the cost of raising, and the selling price is nearly all profit.

VALUE OF PURE BRED RAMS VERSUS SCRUBS

The benefits to be derived from the use of a pure bred ram on a flock of grade ewes are various and many, says M. J. Smith, Kentucky experiment station, in the National Stockman. Lambs sired by a pure bred ram will be more uniform in quality, form and markings than those sired by a scrub ram for the simple reason that the ancestry of the pure bred ram is more uniform Shropshire sheep first came to America in 1826, when some were brought to Virginia. Since then they have spread so that today they are to be found in most parts of this country and Canada. The Shropshire is one of the best breeds known for mutton. Specimens of the breed have been made to weigh 225 pounds for males and 175 pounds for females. They are prolific producers of lambs, and the wool is close and fine. The illustration shows a Shropshire ram.

and hence the possibilities for variation in the offspring are more limited. A flock of uniform lambs with regard to quality, condition, form, markings and weight will command more money per pound on any market than a flock of lambs in which variation is a pronounced feature.

The well bred ram is not only the more profitable, but the scrub ram is a luxury very few farmers can afford. When a pure bred ram is purchased the farmer pays for him, and that is the end of it, but this is not the case with the farmer who buys a scrub ram. In this case he is continually paying for him as long as the ram is used. Lambs sired by a pure bred ram of good individuality will often sell for a dollar more per head than lambs sired by an inferior ram. Therefore the yearly cost of the scrub ram is obtained by multiplying the number of lambs sired by the difference in value of the two grades of lambs. This yearly cost multiplied by the number of years the ram is used, and this product plus the original cost, gives the total cost of the scrub ram.

In selecting the ram for breeding there are a few fundamental considerations that it is well to always bear in mind. First, masculinity should be present to a marked degree. The possession of this quality is indicated by a strong head and neck, a broad nose, a strong jaw, wide nostrils and without a bold carriage. He should stand squarely on his legs, which should be straight, short and set well apart. The back should be strong, straight, broad and firm with a thick broad loin. His should be well sprung and long, chest capacious with a well developed brisket. Top and under line should be straight, and the general form low set and compact. These points are all essential, but should not be obtained at the expense of quality, as all the quality that is consistent with masculinity should be present.

Shavings For Bedding.
Manure is very liable to lose a considerable portion of its fertilizing constituents unless the liquid portions are taken up in the bedding or other absorbent. As shavings have from two to three times the absorbent qualities of whole straw, it may readily be seen that in the use of like quantities of shavings and straw the shavings may bring about a relatively larger saving of the fertilizing elements of the manure. In actual practice the use of shavings or straw or other bedding material is largely determined by their relative cheapness and availability.

Improving the Hog Herd.
Grade up the hog herd, but do not mix or cross breed. It takes a long time, and it is usually impossible to fix or make a fixed type of animal by cross breeding.

WHY YOU SHOULD SELL IN LEXINGTON

BECAUSE It is the biggest market in the world.
BECAUSE all large manufacturers have their redrying plants here.
BECAUSE all smaller manufacturers buy through brokers on this market.
BECAUSE we have thirty nine licensed buyers on the Lexington market.
BECAUSE the Lexington market has averaged for the past five years $1.50 to $3.00 per hundred above the entire average of the state.
BECAUSE it takes you 12 months of hard work to raise a crop; why not take a day or two longer and sell it on the BIGGEST AND BEST MARKET IN THE WORLD!
Don't take anybody's word for it, come and see for yourself and be convinced.

WE HAVE A SALE DAILY IN ONE OR MORE OF OUR HOUSES.

As to the prices we are getting and the way we look after your tobacco, ask any one who has sold with us—we will stand by anything they say about us and solicit your trade on that basis.

We have in our market report for several weeks past reported a strong and active market with a decided advance for common red grades. This week the market has remained firm with values on a par with last week. There was some discrimination, however, against tobacco in too high order which had a tendency to give the market the appearance of not being quite so strong.

22,547,200 Pounds Have Been Sold up to Date AT AN AVERAGE OF $10.63.

We advise you to bring your tobacco on and sell it as soon as you can. Our motto is "Prompt and efficient service and courteous treatment."

NAVAL "PREPAREDNESS"

Means Big Demand For Hemp.

Kentucky, and especially the bluegrass section, will grow an enormous amount of hemp this season, chiefly because with the great preparedness movement, comes the construction of battle ships of every description and as hemp is one of the necessities in the construction of water-tight compartments, Uncle Sam will likely be in the market soon for as much as can be raised in this State, the greatest hemp growing section of the world, says a special dispatch to the Courier-Journal from Winchester.

Up until last year hemp sold for $5 and $4 per hundred, but with the scarcity of hemp, growers gradually drifted away from the crop, and only about 1,000 acres were grown in this county, one of the biggest hemp growing counties in the State. Today hemp is bringing from $11.50 up, over 500 acres in this county being sold at this figure last week, being purchased by E. F. Spears & Sons, of Paris Ky, a firm that holds a big Government contract.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES.

The Garrard County Board of Education met Saturday in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. All members were present—Mr. R. C. Boian, Mr. Jephtha Onstott, Mr. T. M. Arnold and Mr. R. L. Barker. The usual routine business was transacted then the matter of boundary lines of the different districts was taken up. Supt. Garland Singleton of Stanford was present to confer with the Board relative to contract for children on the edges of Garrard county who attend school in Lincoln county. These fractional districts were disposed of in a very satisfactory way with Supt. Singleton, he agreeing to accept the per capita for each child attending school in his county.

The sub-district of White Hall was added to the Paint Lick Consolidated school. This was added with the agreement to continue the school at White Hall as long as the attendance justifies and allow all pupils who can go to Paint Lick. Also the farms of A. H. Wynn, W. W. West, S. A. Roberts and R. K. Conn of the Manse sub-district were added to the Paint Lick school, upon petition of said parties.

The Board also arranged to furnish crayon, erasers and clean sweep for the schools, and supplies to be bought in quantities and distributed to the schools as needed. This Clean Sweep is a preparation to be used on the floors instead of oil. It is a disinfectant and is much more satisfactory than the oil.

The next meeting will be February 26th at which time the question of the length of the school term for another year will be decided, together with several other important matters incident to the next years work.

This divided term is an experiment on the part of the Board but it was the best arrangement they could make in order to give the children the benefit of all of the school term, as it is impossible in the majority of places to have good or even fair attendance during January and February.

KELLY-RAY.

Miss Mabel Kelly, the beautiful daughter of Mr. Sam Kelly, was married in this city yesterday, to Mr. Bryan Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ray, who live near McCreary in this county. Mr. Ray is only 19 and his young wife 17 and the consent of their parents were required before a license would be issued. Both of these young people are popular and the Record together with their friends, wish them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

COMELY-MURPHY.

The marriage of Miss Stella Comely, of this city, to Mr. John Murphy last week in Richmond, came as quite a surprise to the friends of this couple. For several years Mrs. Murphy was a competent typist in the Record office and her friends together with the Record wish her much happiness as she embarks on the matrimonial sea. Mr. Murphy was for several months connected with the barber shop of J. E. Seal and had many customers who always sought his service. They have located in Cincinnati where Mr. Murphy will resume his profession.

LEE.

Mrs. Mary B. Lee, died at her home on Poor Ridge pike Wednesday evening January 26th, and was buried at the family burying ground at Round Hill, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. She leaves to mourn her loss two sons and one daughter. She was a devoted member of the Baptist church, having attended herself to this denomination in her early youth. She was loved by every one who knew her.

PUBLIC SALE.

Having decided to quit farming and go into other business, I will on Saturday, February 26th, 1916

at 10 o'clock a. m., offer for sale at public outcry, on the premises, farm containing 50 acres, to the highest bidder. This farm is located eight and one-half miles North East of Lancaster, Ky., on the Buckeye and Poor Ridge Turnpike, near Cov. Ky., in good neighborhood, near school and midway between two churches. Has a convenient frame 5 room dwelling with veranda in front and two porches, good cistern, meat house, new hen house, milk house, good stock barn and a number one twelve acre tobacco barn tiered with sawed stuff throughout, good stripping room 14x36. Well fenced, five never failing springs, two good pools and is now in a high state of cultivation. The front runs out to Poor Ridge Pike with good road from dwelling.

This is one of the nicest little farms to be found in lower Garrard. Prospective buyers will be shown over the farm any day between now and the sale.

At the same time and place will sell one bay mare, 11 years old, good worker any where and in foal to horse; one good six-year old sorrel saddle mare and good worker; one three-year old bay horse, broke to ride; 1 Jersey milk cow; 1 yearling heifer; 1 sow and 5 shoats; 1 two-horse wagon; 1 rubber tire buggy, good as new; 1 buckboard; Remis tobacco setter, good as new, has never set more than ten acres of tobacco; plows; harrows; wagon and buggy harness and other things too numerous to mention. Terms made known on day of sale. Possession will be given to farm immediately after sale.

A Modern Lady of Lyons

By MARTHA V. MONROE

An auto drove up to a building occupied as lodgings in Rome, and the occupant, a lady, said to the chauffeur:

"Go up to the rooms of Signor Visconti and tell him that Miss Flynn is waiting for him."

The chauffeur disappeared and returned, followed by an Italian perhaps thirty years of age and handsome as a picture. Instead of looking pleased at the appearance of the girl in the car he knit his brows.

"Come for a drive," she said.

"I cannot," he replied as though annoyed. "I shall be busy this afternoon."

"I leave Rome tomorrow. This is your last opportunity to be with me."

The man could not repress a look of pleasure at this. He hesitated, then got into the car and closed the door behind him.

"Take the Appian way," said the lady to the driver.

After threading several streets they passed through a gateway and found themselves on that great road which centuries before had been the favorite thoroughfare of the Romans. There was little said between them. The man made several efforts to start a conversation, but they all failed. The woman seemed preoccupied. If her companion had been placed so as to look her in the face he would have seen a dangerous glitter in her eye. As they passed various objects of interest her companion endeavored to interest her in them. Coming to a columbarium, a building with niches within for urns containing the ashes of the dead, he proposed that they alight and inspect it.

"No," she replied: "I wish for a larger cemetery today. We will visit the catacombs."

Several miles from Rome there is an entrance to these subterranean chambers, and when they reached it they left the auto and joined a party of sightseers. A guide led the way down a marble staircase, and at the bottom all were provided with candles. Miss Flynn took position at the end of the line, which compelled her escort to do the same. They passed through a narrow corridor, on each side of which reposed the bones of the early Christians.

War With Mexico

Is a Very Much Debated Question but Everybody Agrees That The . . .

Benton County Nursery Co., Rogers, Ark.

Is the place to buy the best bargains in strictly first-class, high-grade, state-inspected Fruit Trees, Berry Plants, Grape Vines, Ornamentals, etc. for Spring planting. Give us about five minutes of your time and be convinced that we are offering you the greatest bargains you were ever offered in nursery stock. We are located in the very heart of the Ozarks, in one of the finest fruit sections of the world. Benton County, Arkansas, has the distinction of having more acres in fruit than any place in the whole world for the area it covers. Our trees are propagated from the finest varieties of fruits and healthiest trees grown. They are first-class in every respect. Guaranteed. They are grown by an expert nurseryman, a man who has been on this job more than a quarter of a century. This stock must move for Spring planting or go on the trash pile and be burned. Below are varieties we are offering and the prices cut half into.

THE "RED BERKSHIRE"

One Of The Oldest Breed Of Hogs Established In This Country Many Years Ago.

The following interesting article was read before the Swine Breeders Association at Lexington a few weeks ago, by Mr. W. B. Turley, President of the Kentucky Red Berkshire Association. Forty years ago this was the leading hog in this county and was universally popular with the breeders of those days. The breed has been kept pure from their earliest history, by some of the farmers in this and adjoining counties and about three years ago the above association was formed in order to promote the good qualities of this breed of swine and the result in the past two years has been marvelous and they are now destined to be the most popular breed of today. The CENTRAL RECORD has been particularly interested in this association, containing the articles of incorporation, its by-laws and the standard of perfection. It also contains the following article.

"In introducing the Red Berkshire to the public, we would emphasize the fact that unlike most breeds of livestock, we have not taken individuals of different breeds and by mating them and continuing to cross them produced a different type and after the production of the type heralded our new production as a new breed.

"On the contrary our hogs have been bred pure for seventy-five years. Prior to that time for at least a quarter of a century they had been bred more or less pure, if we are to accept the statements of the men who originated them. New blood was brought in only as it was needed to get us near the desired type as possible.

John W. Walker; Henry Gibbs, Jack Burnside and others, originators of the breed to which we call your attention were large traders in their day, and they noticed and approved the Red Hog. In addition to this they had wonderful opportunity for studying the hogs. In the long excursions to the South driving continuously, and feeding as they went, the "Red Hog" led the way, and to their surprise and amazement they would take on flesh faster than the other types that followed lazily behind, waiting, as it were, for their food to be fed before them.

These facts were also noted by the planters from whom the feed was purchased en route. Their beautiful red ears, their wonderful loins and hams, the latter coming full down to their hock joints, their well sprung ribs and upright ears gave them a wide-awake and alert appearance. Their small, tapering heads indicated a scarcity of cheap meat. The big bone and straight feet showed that they were able to carry flesh day after day and stand under it. They attracted attention wherever they went and after they were known brought more money than the other breeds that were driven with them, and as a result fact they became popular with those who owned and bred them. When the driving over these long journeys to the Southern markets came to an end, because of improved shipping facilities, these men who had seen their superiority, continued to breed them on their farms. They found them prolific, good rustlers and easily and quickly matured. After the passing of these men their descendants and neighbors kept the breed pure for several generations since have bred the Kentucky Red Berkshire along improved lines upon most of the farms in certain sections of Garrard, Madison and other counties.

We who know them regard them as the most practical for all purposes on the farm. While not widely known by their winnings in the show ring, we still assert for them that under the same treatment, same conditions and attention, they will compare favorably with any other of the show breeds. Where hogs are raised only for the market, we believe the Kentucky Red Berkshire surpasses any other breed known. The sows are good mothers, kind and gentle in disposition, giving plenty of rich milk for their young, which is attributable probably to their unusual fondness for grass and roots; they are active and alert and for this reason seldom do injury to their pigs by overlying them in farrowing.

For early development we believe that the Red Berkshire is unsurpassed. The pigs respond quickly to full feed and fatten at any age desired. The meat of the hams of matured hogs is very desirable. It has a rich flavor, firm and fine fibre. These hams are sought especially since the lean meat lies on the inside without fat streaks and fat meat on the outside is such that it can be trimmed close quite easily.

We would further emphasize the fact to the public that we have been breeding these hogs for show purposes, only since our organization in September 1913. Since then we have selected from our stock, those individuals that conform as nearly as possible to our standard of perfection. These standards are:

A jaw that is light, neat, firm and tapering from the neck to a point with the face nearly straight, medium width between the eyes and a short neck tapering from the shoulder to the head; shoulders deep, full and well in line with the back, sides straight from shoulder to ham with ribs well sprung at top and bottom; belly straight and full, devoid of grossness; flank full and running nearly on a line with the sides; tail, erect or slightly arched, with medium breadth and with nearly uniform thickness from shoulders to hams and full at the loins with a chest deep, large and roomy; girth extending down even with line of belly and rump; the latter slightly rounded from loin to root of tail; ears of medium length, thin, straight up or slightly forward, narrow cheeks, not full; legs of medium length set squarely under body; short pasterns, short toes and firm; color from deep red to a pale red; white face, feet and knees are acceptable.

INDEPENDANT.

Lexington, Ky. Virginia ave & Q.&C.R.R

THIS IS FOR YOU MR. TOBACCO GROWER.

The Farmers Home Tobacco Warehouse Company has adopted the profit sharing plan. This means the net profit above six per cent. dividend, instead of being given to the stockholders, are to be given to you in proportion to your patronage.

The more tobacco we get the larger will be the profits returned. This profit sharing plan is guaranteed by the undersigned Directors. We were the first house in Kentucky to offer our warehouse to the farmers on the profit sharing basis.

Mr. Ford the automobile manufacturer made this proposition and returned $50.00 on every automobile; if we can get your support and sell 5,000,000 pounds of tobacco, we can return you fifteen to twenty cents on every hundred pounds sold. We guarantee to divide the profits, the other fellow keeps it.

The farmers see the proposition, and in consequence we have more than sold our pro-rata. The average of the Lexington market to date has been $18.00 per hundred, the Farmers Home average is $19.00, a net gain to our customers of sixty one cents. This has been accomplished by honest methods, and fresh tobacco which is always attractive to the buyer.

We have the second largest house in Lexington; it can house one hundred and twenty wagons; the stables are separate and apart from the warehouse, with one hundred and twenty box stalls. We have one hundred and thirty farmers as stockholders who control and direct the policy of this house.

We solicit your patronage and influence, and invite you to call and inspect our house and investigate this plan, because it means a saving to you.

For a Bilious Attack

When you have a severe headache, accompanied by a coated tongue, loathing of food, constipation, torpid liver, vomiting of partly digested food and then bile, you may know that you have a severe bilious attack. While you may be quite sick there is much consolation in knowing that relief may be had by taking three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They are prompt and effective. Obtainable everywhere, 1m.

AID THE KIDNEYS

Do Not Endanger Life When a Lancaster Citizen Shows You the Way to Avoid It.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a tested remedy is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years, have been tested in thousands of cases.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, act now. Dropsy or Bright's disease may set in and make neglect dangerous. Read this Lancaster testimony:

W. C. Davis, tailor, Danville Pike, Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were disordered and I suffered from pains across the small of my back. The irregular kidney action obliged me to arise at night. I have considerable bending to do in my work and I became easily tired and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y. 2-10-2t

LEVEL GREEN.

On last Thursday afternoon Master Carl Smith was given a birthday party by his aunt, Mrs. H. Smith. Among those present were Misses Thelma, Lillian and Ruby Robinson and their little brothers, Guy and Lawrence. Master Combs Green and little sister, Georgia Olive. A nice luncheon was served and before they left each was presented with a nice lot of home-made candy.

EAT A SQUARE MEAL AND NOT FEAR INDIGESTION.

There are hundreds of people in Lancaster who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "Central Record" that R. E. McRoberts is selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable dyspepsia remedy will relieve the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness, or the general played-out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble. Mi-o-na does not simply relieve, it aims to cure.

R. E. McRoberts can tell you of many well known people in this city who this remedy has restored to health, often they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit. No other dyspepsia remedy has made so large a percentage of cures as Mi-o-na. It is so large that R. E. McRoberts stands ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds in Lancaster today praising Mi-o-na because it does what it is advertised to do. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na, they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering. 2-10-2t.

An Episode of Cuba

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

During that period in Cuba when the people were under the heel of Captain General Weyler two young men, Jose Herrera and Manuel Furtado, one the son of a sugar planter, the other a lawyer who hunted up cases of law of title, then leveled blackmail on the holder of the property, came into collision.

Senorita Inez Madera, the daughter of a Spanish grandee who had emigrated from Spain many years before, was one of those southern beauties whose dark eyes, over which sweep long lashes, render them entrancing. She and Herrera met at a ball given by a wealthy planter, and the meeting resulted in a love affair. At the time Senorita Madera, who had made a fortune in Spain before coming to Cuba and had always since been impetuous, had been approached by Manuel Furtado for the hand of Senorita Inez. The grandee was at first disposed to regard the application as an insult, but when Furtado announced that he had accumulated a considerable fortune and would supply the old man's wants the latter turned a listening ear.

The entrance of Herrera into the play made a great difference to Furtado. What might probably have resulted without his interference was now impossible. But he did not realize this. He had been introduced to Senorita Inez by her father, and she had received him graciously. Then came to the lawyer a temptation to put his rival out of the way. Those were the times when persons in Cuba were very easily put out of the way. The captain general was an autocrat whose order would send any man to prison or before a firing squad.

Furtado lodged information at the palace that Jose Herrera was not only a revolutionist, but that he was plotting to bring United States troops into the island to expel the Spaniards. One evening when Herrera was expected to call on Senorita Madera he did not arrive. On the way to her home he was waylaid by order of the governor and carried to prison. No one knew of his arrest. Furtado had reported that if it were known that he was a captive it would exasperate his friends, and they were sufficiently numerous to make trouble. So his arrest was kept secret.

Soon after this came the Spanish-American war and the landing of United States troops in Cuba. Herrera lay in prison till the war ended, then came forth, not having heard from nor having communicated with anyone outside his jail during the hostilities. He learned that Senorita Madera, supposing him to be dead, was in mourning for him. He knew that some one had procured his arrest and confinement, but did not know who that person was. Before making himself known to any one he instituted inquiries as to his accuser, and since the records were now open to him he soon learned that he had been betrayed by Manuel Furtado.

Jose determined to punish his betrayer before making himself known to the girl he loved. Either he or Manuel must die, and if it were Jose it was better that he should not come to life to be mourned a second time. He was weak from confinement and gave himself a brief respite before tackling his enemy, who had turned in favor of the revolutionists just in time to be on the winning side and, having given a considerable sum to the cause, was in favor with the people and the American provisional government.

Furtado was an occasional visitor at the home of Senor Madera. Senorita Inez did not like him; but, being ignorant of the trouble he had brought upon her lover, to please her father she treated him civilly. Herrera, learning of these visits, lay in wait for his enemy.

One night Furtado was stopped by one who blocked his way. There was no light except that of a half moon, and Furtado did not recognize the man he had injured.

"You don't remember me," said Herrera.

"I do not."

"I am Jose Herrera, whom you informed against falsely and whose arrest on this very spot you instigated—an appropriate spot for the settlement of the account between us."

"Are you going to murder me?"

"No. Are you unarmed?"

"I have not so much as a penknife."

"Take that!" Jose landed him a cavalry saber. "I have its duplicate."

"I prefer to meet you with others to see fair play," replied Furtado, "and I prefer pistols. I know nothing of the use of a saber."

"No! But as to fair play, you are not a giver of fair play and consequently not entitled to it yourself. As to sabers, they make less noise than pistols, and the survivor will have a better chance to get away unnoticed. On guard!"

Within ten minutes Herrera left his enemy dead in the road.

Senorita Madera was sitting in a dimly lighted garden beside her home when the gate opened and Herrera entered.

"Jose!" she exclaimed. "Are you of the quick or the dumb?"

"I am of the quick; I have just left the dead."

The next morning Herrera gave himself up as the slayer of Furtado, but he had only to make known the treatment he had received of his enemy to elicit sympathy. He was never brought to trial, not even arrested.

He married Senorita Madera and subsequently became prominent as a Cuban legislator.

Insists on Too Much.

The trouble with the man who blows his own horn is that he so often insists on being the whole orchestra.

Evidently Disappointed.

"It's a case of love at first sight."

"Well, maybe it will work out all right. I took four years to select my husband, and look what I got!"—Detroit Free Press.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

GROWING A MILK HERD.

Pays Farmers to Buy a Good Bull and Raise Their Own Cows.

As those taking up the milking of cows in Kansas get further into the game they are becoming more and more convinced that the only way to secure a thoroughly satisfactory and profitable herd is to raise them, says the Kansas Farmer. Where there is such a strong demand for good milk cows as there is at the present time satisfactory animals are seldom offered for sale. The cows put on the market and sold are almost sure to be the discarded. This is true even in older dairy communities, but where dairy cattle have been handled a good many years the standard of production for cows good enough to keep in the herd has been raised until many fairly good cows are culled out and sold.

That is not the case in Kansas, however, although as our stock of dairy cattle increases there may be a surplus of good cows produced at some future time, and some of these will be offered on the market.

Thomas Wells, a Sedgewick county farmer, recently remarked: "A good sire, with better calves well handled until old enough to breed and then carefully tested as to milk production, is sure to build up a paying herd of milk cows. When I bought my cows I found them unsatisfactory, but when I raised them the profits from milking soon began to increase. I now milk more than thirty cows. Most of them freshen in the fall." This is the common experience of all who have made any pretense of trying to improve their herds of milk cows.

KEEP THE BARN CLEAN.

Milk Fit For Food Cannot Be Produced In Filthy Stables.

Milk drawn from filthy cows or from cows kept in a stable that is not well lighted or ventilated or that is filthy from an accumulation of manure or milk exposed to foul or noxious odors cannot be profitably sold or manufactured into articles of food for man.

Keep the barn clean, well ventilated, well lighted and free from dust.

Whitewash the barn at least once a year. It will add to its appearance, increase its value, lighten the dark corners and make it more salubrious. It is desirable to have dairy cattle in a barn by themselves. The odor from horse stalls, filthy calf pens or hogpens is objectionable, because it will taint the milk when it is drawn.

When constructing a new barn or if the old one is remodeled see that the walls are smooth and that the ceiling is tight. The floor and the base of the walls should be constructed of cement in order that the liquid manure may be saved and removed.

Give the cows a chance to keep clean. She cannot do it if the stall is too long or too short or not high enough. Cow

One of the outstanding characteristics of the Guernsey cow is her ability to turn grain and fodder into high colored milk, cream and butter. As the matter of color of milk she excels all other breeds. In richness, too, she has few equals. To the farmer who sells his milk on the basis of quality and who wishes to improve his herd the pure bred Guernsey will fill the bill. The males are propen to a marked degree. The cow pictured is a pure bred Guernsey.

stalls should be so constructed that the cows will lie with their heads in the mangers; otherwise they will be compelled to step backward before lying down, in which case they have no chance to keep clean. A large gutter and adjustable stalls that line all the cows up to the gutter are important factors in keeping the cows and their milk clean.

An abundance of bedding in the cow stalls makes for clean milk, clean, contented cows, clean floors and the saving of the liquid manure. If bedding or other absorbents are placed in the empty gutter the liquid manure will be absorbed and held at the bottom. To some extent that practice prevents the cows from soiling themselves.

The manure should be removed daily and the manger kept clean. Colic will be swept down and hauled out with a wheelbarrow.

Manure should not be placed against the barn or where the cows will be compelled to wade through it in going to and from the barn.

Even when the cows live out of doors in summer and are in the barn only at milking time failure to clean the floor and gutter regularly will result in foul odors.—Wisconsin Dairy and Food Commissioner.

Pointer For Dairyman.

Belong to a dairy cattle breeders' association, a cow testing association and every organization that will help to keep you posted and in touch with the best up to date methods of managing your dairy herd.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any drugstore can put this up, or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and remove dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

TAX REVISION PUSHED ASIDE

Believed That It Will Be Handled At a Special Session

WM. C. ALLEN IS OUSTED

Morrow Raises a Rumpus Over Alleged Deal For "Stanley" County Which is Being Investigated.

Frankfort, Ky.—Special—Revision of Revenue and Taxation laws, considered to be the most needed legislation in Kentucky, will in all probability be handled at a special session of the General Assembly to be called by Governor Stanley, after the adjournment of the regular session about the middle of March.

This continues to be the general impression among the senators who realize the great importance and the many problems in this connection which will have to be worked out. Remedial and constructive legislation is promised by the Democrats now that the Pike County partition bill is defeated and it is claimed that there will be no further time-wasting divergence.

The early days of February brought trouble to the Democratic ranks when Representative Frank C. Greene, Carrollton, and W. B. Harvey, of Dixon assumed the role of insurgents and said a lot of things about Governor Stanley, winding up by putting themselves off the administration reservation when they voted with the Republicans against unseating Wm. C. Allen, Republican, to the favor of S. C. Dobbs, Democrat, whom a majority of the House Committee determined to have won in the Wayne-Clinton district. Rep. L. H. Hamilton, of Frankfort, also voted with the Republicans in this instance.

Another matter which made trouble was the charge of Edwin P. Morrow, defeated candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket, who declared that the rich Williamson family (Republicans), of Mingo County, West Virginia, and Boyd County, Kentucky, made a deal with Tom Hatcher, the new member of the State Board of Prison Commissioners, whereby $1,500 Republicans voted the Democratic ticket at the November election, in exchange for a division of Pike county to be known as Stanley County. A committee was appointed composed of Senators Hite Hufaker, J. B. Hiles and Bishop S. Hustaman to make an investigation of these charges and also the charges of a newspaper in which it was claimed that money had been offered or used for the purpose of influencing votes.

The anti-trust bill and the anti-pass bill are the first of the administration measures to be passed by both houses and reach Governor Stanley for his signature.

Important legislation expected to be taken up next will be the anti-lobby; corrupt practices, text books and the measure to put into effect the constitutional amendment providing for the working of convicts on the public highways.

The Woman Suffrage supporters were greatly shocked when the House Committee decided to report their bill unfavorably. Their opportunity to have the constitutional amendment passed at this session seems to have been crushed.

With an unfavorable report on the state-wide prohibition amendment by the House Committee, several efforts have been made to bring the bill out by Representative Frank Greene. Dry leaders in the House declare that they will endeavor to obtain a vote on it even though the Senate has already defeated a similar measure.

Dr. R. P. Sights has made it known that he will not be an applicant for reappointment as Superintendent of the Western Kentucky Hospital for the insane, at Hopkinsville. There are many candidates after the juicy plum which will be given out some time before the expiration of Dr. Sights' term on July 1st.

In their efforts to prevent the confirmation of the appointments of Jack Nelson, Paducah, and Omer Stubbs, Newport, who were appointed to be Factory and Assistant Factory Inspectors, the Kentucky Federation of Labor, lost in their protest of Cohen's choice, after Governor Stanley had ascertained that they were both members of the union and in good standing.

Resolutions have been adopted by the State Board of Agriculture, protesting against the transfer of $30,000 from its fund to the State University, to be used in Government co-operative demonstration work.

It is claimed that this action would practically abolish the board, destroy the State Fair, abolish the position of State Veterinarian and cripple the entire Department of Agriculture and take away all of the appropriation which has been used to the benefit of the entire state.

Governor Stanley has accepted an invitation to attend the banquet of the Moose Green Club in Louisville on the evening of February 25th.

Lieut. Governor Black, President of the State Senate, is very proud of his gavel. It is of solid ivory with an ebony handle and a band of sterling silver with the inscription "Presented to Lieut. Gov. James D. Black by the Sunday schools of Harboursville, Ky. December 25, 1915." It was intended for a Christmas gift but some delay occurred by the manufacturers and he received it the first week in February.

It has been decided by the Democratic leaders to put through measures reappointing the State into senatorial and legislative districts strongly urged by the Republicans.

The redistricting bills that will have the backing of the Democrats will carry out the constitutional provision that not more than two counties shall be joined together in one legislative district. At the present time several of them are made up in three counties and one has four, Bell, Harlan, Leslie and Perry counties.

It is a most difficult task, due to many conflicting interests, but the Democratic leaders believe that they can get together on a satisfactory measure.

W. C. Allen, Republican, representative from Clinton and Wayne counties, was unseated by a vote of 57 to 39, in favor of S. C. Dobbs, Democrat, who contested the election. Party lines were drawn with the exception of four Democratic members who voted against unseating Allen.

The contest means that the State will pay over $600 more to have a Representative from the Clinton-Wayne district than any of the other ninety-one districts.

Allen will receive $250 awarded him for contest expenses in addition having drawn $300 in per diem besides his mileage and stationary allowance. Dobbs will receive per diem from the first day of 1916 for the whole session and is entitled to his other expenses the same as if he had started upon his duties the opening day.

The general impression seems to be that "Uncle Bill" Allen, has made his calling and election certain two years hence as the district is ever widening Republican. The ungrudging mountain solon could not conceal his emotions when he was ousted from the House membership.

The fight to create the new county of Stanley by a partition of Pike county, has been dropped, according to the chief supporters. The bill was laid on the table in the Senate, but still is in shape to be considered if a majority is mustered in its support.

State Superintendent Gilbert and school officials over the state will fight the bill introduced in the senate to pay the appropriations for the State University and normal schools, amounting to $237,000, out of the state school fund instead of the general fund.

It is claimed that this would cripple the work of the State Department of Education.

With the consent of the authors, three health measures have been voluntarily withdrawn or killed in the General Assembly. The most important was the "half time health officer" bill, backed by the State Board of Health. This bill provided for the abolishment of the health boards in all cities except Louisville, Lexington, Newport, Lexington and Paducah and making the county the unit for public health service. A county health officer devoting all of his time at a salary of ten cents per annum for each person in the county was provided.

Pierce Holton, of Frankfort, has been given a place in the Rating Board office by Auditor Greene.

Governor Stanley has appointed the following Colonels on his staff: Ike Hart, Hopkinsville; W. Vernon Richardson, Danville, and Wallace Stovall, Tampa, Fla.

Sam C. Elliott, of Louisville, has been appointed Deputy Fire Marshal to succeed Edward Bright of Glasgow. The appointment was made by Auditor Greene.

Attorney-General Logan has made an attack upon the expenses of the State Department of Education, pointing out enormous expenditures and claiming that seven stenographers are not needed in that department.

Public Instruction Superintendent Gilbert answered his criticism saying that the insinuation as to the employment of relatives and further statement of extravagance of his predecessor and other matters have no bearing on the present administration. Gilbert says that he has neither wife, brother, sister nor any other kinsman employed in his department and that the insinuation of Logan missed the mark. The employment of seven stenographers is necessary, says Prof. Gilbert.
